Your brand already has the hard part: a distinct identity, a POV, an aesthetic that's unmistakably yours. All that's missing is a story your audience can sink their teeth into and a protagonist they can root for.

That's where I come in.

Working with your team, I take what your fans already love about you and build it into a vertical series that will turn your casual scrollers into a dedicate fanbase that tunes in daily.

The result? A series customized for your audiences' tastes that feels less like a commercial and more like their new favorite show.

SAMPLE CONCEPT

LOGLINE

When a group of best friends are all unceremoniously laid off on the same day, they make a pact to rebuild their entire lives in three weeks flat, complete with new jobs, new tax bracket, and brand-new love lives. But with mounting bills, a group chat full of questionable advice, and two of them quietly falling for the same guy, three weeks turns out to be just enough time to test their friendship, blow up their plans, and change the trajectory of their lives forever.

FORMAT

A 21-episode season of 90-second episodes, shot vertically and custom designed for your audience's FYP.

THE RECIPE

- ♥ Characters They Care About
- ♥ Products They Love Appear in The World Organically
- ♥ Storylines They Relate To
- ♥ Juicy Cliffhangers = Viewer Retention
- ♥ Witty, Never-Cringe Dialogue Written by a Pro Comedy Writer
